Wisconsin AIHA Meeting Announcement

Topic: OSHA Updates for 2010

OSHA has a new administrator, David Michaels, Ph.D., M.P.H., who is committed to making the agency as effective as possible in reducing and eliminating harm to employees. His goals are to promote comprehensive workplace safety and health programs, chemical safety, prevention of hazards through design, development of strong regulations and the enhancement of worker involvement. The new OSHA agenda includes initiatives for 300 Log recordkeeping, process safety management, chemical food flavorings, combustible dust, walking and working surfaces and hazard communication. The agency is also concerned about non-English speaking workers. This presentation will outline OSHA's enforcement and compliance assistance approaches to meeting the goals of the new administration.

Speaker: Leslie Ptak is a compliance assistance specialist in the Madison OSHA office. Her responsibilities include outreach and training for Madison OSHA's 19-county territory and oversight of the office's cooperative programs, such as alliances and partnerships. She is the contact person for Madison's Voluntary Protection Programs (VPP) and can be found giving presentations across the state. Her OSHA enforcement career began 25 years ago as an industrial hygienist compliance officer in the Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania and Los Angeles, California OSHA Offices. She worked as a technical information specialist in the Chicago Regional Office. She has been a team leader in the Madison OSHA Office. Currently she is a compliance assistance specialist which means she has no enforcement authority at all.
